Dear Sir or Madam,

Please do not allow any telemarketing to be practiced on anyone who does not wish to be bothered. Anyone who takes the trouble to make sure that they are signed onto the do-not-call list can be considered as seriously opposed to having their privacy intruded upon by telemarketers. Signing onto this list is considered to be a vote against telemarketing, and numerically speaking, telemarketers have lost the election unless the election itself has been purchased and is about to be negated. If this is the case then the FCC is no longer truly functioning in the public interest.

Greg Hoffmann

My Comment to the FCC

Do Not abolish the Do Not CALL List ! It's the best thing government has done in years.

(1) there are enough advertising venues available without the involvement of my personal telephone. Junk mail can be sent to consumers at a ridiculously low rate.

(2) my son lives in a group home where one of the residents says 'yes' to everything and anything. Therefore, telemarketers have sold this resident unwanted & unneeded purchases that in turn the staff needs to go through the hassle of returning and explaining the situation. This should NOT be allowed.

(3) my personal telephone and phone number should not be used to try & sell me things. When I became a telephone customer I was never advised that I'd end up being solicited by people & companies I don't want to hear from!!

(4) Another idea, the phone companies contact each one of their subscribers and see if they want to be contacted by telemarketers. If they do use some sort of code so the telemarketers know they do - then we need no list.

My Comment to the FCC

This is regards to state of Wisconsin NO CALL LIST.
Under the current status there are <sup>allowances</sup> ~~allows~~ for non-profit organization, calls made in response to verbal or written response, existing customers. There is no need for Wisconsin to change it status or law - This is a State's Right Issue.
Wisconsin and other states in the union should be able to set what ever limits they deemed with regards to telemarketing.

My Comment to the FCC

I signed up for Wisconsin's No Call List because I did not want to be bothered by telemarketing calls. Since the law has been in effect I have received less than a dozen calls. Exempting Out-of-State telemarketers from complying with the restrictions will weaken our law. Please do not preempt sections to favor the few against the wishes of the many who are on the list.
